See below for important print settings.

Inspired by the basalt stone columns located in southern Iceland, this planter features a stone-like texture that captures the natural beauty of Reynisfjara beach.

This planter also features a two-part system, including a removable pot with drainage holes and a base with a built-in water drainage reservoir.

Thanks to the ample drainage, this planter is suitable for any small succulent, cactus, or other houseplant.

The pictured prints were done with Bambu Matte Light Gray filament.
